FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Potsdam Public Museum and the Potsdam Public Library
Now offering Ancestry.com to the public

POTSDAM - The Potsdam Public Museum and the Potsdam Public Library at the Civic Center have partnered to offer the public free access to the online genealogy database Ancestry.com. Museum Director, Mimi Van Deusen and Library Director, Patricia Musante invite the public to come to the Civic Center and access this database to look up family information. You may be able to locate information about your grandparents and great-grandparents' date of birth, listings of children including birthdays, marriages and death dates. Sometimes the information includes places of birth, marriage, death, and/or burial locations. For more information call the Potsdam Public Museum at 265-6910 or the Potsdam Public Library at 265-7230.

The museum is open Tuesday – Saturday 12-6 PM. The library is open Monday -Thursday 9 – 8 PM, Friday & Saturday 9-5 and Sunday 12-5 PM.
